Mr. Pompliano –

On Dec. 15, we emailed you a copy of AT&T's motion for contempt sanctions against Anexio. That same day, you wrote me back stating Anexio believed it had produced the documents requested in AT&T's subpoenas, and I responded stating we have not received anything and providing a screenshot showing that the Kiteworks shared folder we created for Anexio to upload its production is still empty.

On Dec. 17 you advised that Anexio believes it has collected the responsive documents and thought it had already successfully uploaded them, and that Mr. Jason Long will attempt to upload them again and follow up with me directly.

As of today, we have not received any documents or further communication from Mr. Long. AT&T's motion for contempt sanctions is still pending before the court. It is vitally important that we receive Anexio's documents as soon as possible. If you have them available to upload, please do so by COB tomorrow to the Kiteworks folder we created and to which we gave Mr. Long upload access. If you are having difficulty using the Kiteworks fileshare, please let us know so we can provide assistance or, alternatively, upload them to another system of your preference and kindly provide instructions on how we can download them.

Last, we understand that Anexio refused to accept delivery of a FedEx package we sent containing the recently-filed motion papers in this case (image attached). If that refusal was in error, please let me know.

If I can provide any other assistance on these matters, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best regards,
-Mike

Thank you, Tony. Jason was provided the link again to the upload site on 12/21/21 (attached), which will prompt him to create his own password. So there's no need for him to request a new password. Brooke – who sent him the attached email – also offered to help him with any technical issues. To my knowledge, no one has reached out to her for any assistance.

I appreciate the update. Please keep me advised on the status and do make sure to reach out to Brooke (cc'd) if you or Jason need assistance with the upload process.

Best,

Email was down so could not get PW for account. I have requested another PW and nothing still. Also with access restrict getting to files is not possible right now. I did not have enough space to download files to laptop. I have to pull directly from folders in S drive to upload. At least that was my plan because there are so many.

Mr. Pompliano & Mr. Long –

I hope you both had a nice holiday and Happy New Year. I am following up on the below. I have not received a response to my last emails. Could you please advise of the status?

If you are still having difficulty uploading the documents to the SecureShare folder we provided, we would be happy to send a courier to retrieve a ZIP disk or thumb drive with the documents, if that would be easier.

Please let me know and, in all events, I would appreciate an update on the document production.

Best regards,

I am following up on my email below. Could you please advise us of the status? If the documents have been collected, are you still having trouble uploading them? Please let us know what the issues are here so we can assist any way we are able. It is vital that we get this completed to avoid further action by the court.

Please provide an update at your earliest convenience.

Thank you,

Jason –

Thank you for the update. Anexio is in violation of a court order. While we appreciate the representation that it has experienced network problems over the last week, the violations have been ongoing for a long time now. Unless we receive the documents the Court ordered Anexio to produce by noon Eastern time on Friday, we feel we must alert the Court and determine how it wants to proceed. We ask that you do all you can to avoid the necessity of any further action.

In the meantime, please let me or Brooke know if we can be of further assistance.

Best,
-Mike

Can you please provide an update?

As of today, our office has not received any of the documents that the District Court ordered Anexio to produce by November 8, 2021 at the latest. As we've previously communicated to you, AT&T's motion for contempt sanctions against Anexio (attached) is pending, and requests that the Court impose, among other items, a fine against Anexio for each day that Anexio is not in compliance with the Court's order, as well as the recovery of AT&T's attorneys' fees and costs incurred in seeking compliance with the subpoena.

We have provided all assistance Anexio has requested to facilitate its compliance with the Court's order. We urge Anexio to prioritize doing so in order to avoid additional fines, fees and costs. If we can be of further assistance to those efforts, please do not hesitate to let us know.

Best regards,
